

Southeast Asia Climate and Health Responder Course

Dr. Wiwat Chatwongwan

Dr. Wiwat Chatwongwan, Deputy Director of Maharat Nakhon Ratchasima Hospital, supervises work on environment and medical equipment in Maharat Nakhon Ratchasima Hospital. He envisions this hospital to becoming climate-smart, disaster-resilient, and sustainable medical centers—promotive of the Bio-Circular-Green (BCG) economy model. By mainstreaming principles of sustainability, low-carbon development, and gender equality and social inclusion, we aim to deliver high-quality healthcare services for all. Wiwat graduated in dentistry at Mahidol University and Diploma in oral and maxillofacial surgery (Thai Board) F.R.C.D.T. He provides treatment for patients with oral cancer, development of screening and prevention of oral cancer. As a member of the Thai Dental Council Committee, he takes care of people in terms of health and the dental public health system of Thailand. Wiwat wants to see equal access to dental health services in Thailand.
