

Tiffany T. Pritchett, MS, OTR/L (Clinical Specialist, Spaulding Rehabilitation Hospital) is a Clinical Specialist in Occupational Therapy at the Spaulding Rehabilitation Hospital Charlestown, outpatient department. She has over 20 years of experience and specializes in the areas of spinal cord injury and other neurological disorders, with a special interest in the areas of bladder/bowel management and sexual health. She is a mentor to her colleagues and serves as a supervisor for graduate student interns. She is a frequent guest lecturer at Regis College School of Occupational Therapy and North Shore Community College in the OTA program and has presented at conferences regionally, nationally, and internationally, including a published chapter in Telerehabilitation: Principles and Practice. Tiffany is interested in factors which impact successful recovery from neurologic illness and injury including: a team approach to bladder management in the SCI population, the role of therapeutic relationships in patient recovery and early engagement in meaningful occupations following injuries.